

Pertinent Paragraphs

The 1949 board of directors of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce is extremely desirous of setting up a complete program for this year. One of the things that is keeping this incomplete is the poor, so far, returns from their letter sent to members a couple of weeks ago inquiring regarding preferences. If you are a member, and have failed to answer, you are urged to do so at once. The very pertinent item right now concerns meetings. Do you want a monthly meeting or not. President Ted Haaf states that the board will be guided by your wishes — but unless they're made known . . .

While we like to confine this column to things strictly local, an article we read concerning the Soviet newspaper revelation that a Russian had made the first heavier than air flight back in 1882 so stirs us that we wanta make a public comment on it.

Of course the Wright brothers were in knee pants then — and such a claim if true would put them in there as first — which they could add to their list of 'first inventions' along with the telephone, electric lighting and radio and many other major scientific achievements. What we'd like to comment is this — when are they gonna lay claim to discovering the first deep-freeze? You know, the exiling to Siberia.

One of the casualties (manner of speaking) of the recent unusual weather was Doc Weege, who lives on a mountain a couple of miles beyond Jamul. When Doc stuck his face out Monday, week ago, to start to work, he was a mite surprised to find fourteen inches of snow. His forced hibernation ended Thursday though, when a county road gang mercifully removed enough of that Northern California stuff so his car could navigate. This Monday it had abided down to four inches!

Another near casualty of the weather is John Van Gilse, who claims it was cold between four and five Tuesday morning. Especially if you happen to walk home from the vicinity of the two drive-in theatres as he did. He wasn't scouting their pictures — instead was driving home from SD where he left his car when he took off for Hollywood the previous a.m. to check on some new pictures for the Grove theatre. Seems as if someone needed (or thought they did) his gasoline more than he did.

Oh yes, signs. On order by the Lions club are some humdingers to be planted at the approaches to our town. You'll start seeing them in about three weeks!

FORWARD CLUB GUESTS OF ALPINE CLUB

Ten members of the Lemon Grove Forward Club accepted the kind invitation of the Alpine Women's Club to a Reciprocity Tea Tuesday afternoon, and had a very enjoyable time. A musical program was presented and many heaped trays of sandwiches and cookies were served with the tea.

Mrs. Haaf, local president, introduced all the Lemon Grove guests, and they received quite an ovation for being the largest delegation present. Those attending were Mrs. Shuyler Reed, Mrs. Fred Wright, Mrs. E. R. Sharer, Mrs. Irving Vernier, Mrs. A. P. Schnell, Mrs. E. Foster, Mrs. Frank Barber, Mrs. J. H. Miller, Mrs. Randolph Morse and Mrs. Ted Haaf.

Group To Seek Action on Community Center

A group of interested citizens met Tuesday evening at the Homemakers Furniture Store, Main Street, to discuss prospects for the proposed Community Center.

It was found possible to build the center with volunteer labor, unions cooperating. Approximately $10,000 is now available, $8,000 of which is from county funds. This $8,000 may be forfeited unless something concrete is begun before June 30.

Anyone interested in volunteering time or materials is asked to offer them as soon as possible.

A further meeting will be held Tuesday, January 25, 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Randolph Morse, 8354 Golden Avenue, with County officials attending. An invitation has been extended to all organizations in Lemon Grove to send representatives.

John Casteel is in the Naval Hospital in San Diego, undergoing a physical check up prior to treatment for a hip ailment.

Business Men Hold Regular Meeting

There were nineteen members present at the regular weekly meeting of the Business Men's Association Tuesday noon, at the Golf and Country Club.

Further discussion took place regarding the advisability of having a full time paid night constable for Homeland Township. No report was available from the committee, which was only recently appointed.

The project for widening and straightening Broadway, Federal Boulevard, or Highway 94, and to select one name for the street, was pending in committee. This committee was requested to work with the Chamber of Commerce committee on the same project.

The by-laws committee is still working and a report is expected at the next meeting.

Mr. Netzley reported that the school was not sponsoring the soliciting of funds for the March of Dimes by school children, and suggested that business men refuse to donate to any solicitation by school children unless well publicized in advance.

Paul Duley invited the group to attend a meeting at The Homemakers' Furniture Store Tuesday

Brownies See 'Pinnocchio'

Mrs. C. F. Baxter, Mrs. Charles Archer and Mrs. Robert Schnick took 16 Brownies and guests to the Russ Auditorium Saturday evening to see "Pinnocchio."

This was Brownie troop 96 composed of Beverly Svalstad, Sharon Fields, Gale Tormondsen, Kay Nevis, Janet Baxter, Janice Torgerson, Dianne Archer, Diane McCune, Georgina Grove, Barbara Thomas and Janet Weston.

Guests attending with the Brownies were Wanda Griffith, Janice Schnick, Karen Van Gilse, Beverly Bell and Billie Archer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Issott and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Haaf will drive to Blythe, January 25, where the ladies plan to attend a southern district executive board meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs. The theme of the meeting will be "Safety," and Mrs. Rockwell of Imig Park will be one of the speakers.

evening, January 18, to discuss plans for the youth center. Some action must be taken before June 30, according to Mr. Duley, or the funds now available may revert back to the county.

Local Woman Sees Sister First Time In 37 Years

Mrs. John R. Kennedy of Florine Drive, upon reading notices of a meeting in San Diego, recognized the names of her half sister and brother-in-law, Commissioner and Mrs. Hugh Sladen, of the Salvation Army, whom had not seen for 37 years.

She attended the meeting Sunday evening and surprised her sister. They all enjoyed a nice reunion and visit; renewing family ties.

Mrs. Kennedy had been adopted by Mrs. Sladen's family, Mr. and Mrs. Booth Tucker, as a child, but had lost track of the family after coming to the United States.

The Sladens spent the war years in Finland. They stated that the Salvation Army building in Helsinki was the only building there unscathed by war. They are now on a world lecture tour. Enroute they plan to visit another sister in Auckland, New Zealand, whom they have not seen in 33 years. Their home is in Surry, London, where they will return in June.

The older son of the Sladens was killed in the war and a younger son is a doctor in the Antarctic. They also have a daughter.

The Kennedy's son, John Jr., in the U. S. Air Corps in Europe, attempted to contact the family during the war, but was unable, because of their location in Finland.

Mrs. Kennedy recalls that during her youth she traveled extensively with the family, spending five years in India and attending school in Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy came to Lemon Grove in 1939 from San Diego. She came to the United States in 1919 and was married in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, in 1920.

Forward Club Juniors Will Meet Jan. 25

The next regular meeting of the Forward Club Juniors will be held Tuesday, January 25, at the Forward Club House.

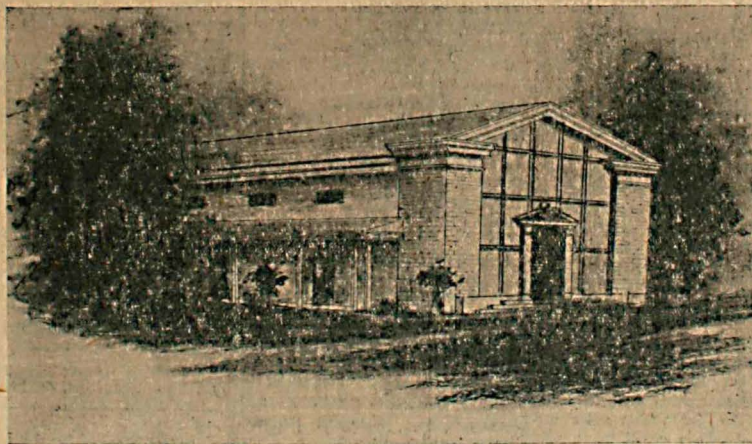

A committee meeting was held Monday evening, January 17, at the home of Mrs. W. C. Hubbard, of Central Avenue. This meeting was for the purpose of discussing plans for the party for prospective new members, scheduled for February 8 at the club house. This will also be the date of the first February meeting.

Members of the committee besides Mrs. Hubbard, were Mrs. William Kellison, Mrs. David Hentigan, Mrs. Amy Sonka, Mrs. Kenneth Kunkel, Mrs. D. G. Beebe and Mrs. Ed Miller.

There will be a committee meeting Friday January 21, to discuss plans for the Spring Bazaar. It will be held at the home of Mrs. William Kellison. Other committee members are Mrs. Allen Gilse and Mrs. David Hentigan.

LOCAL CHURCH AND FINANCING PLAN PUBLICIZED IN STATE CIRCULATED MAGAZINE

The following is a reprint, including photograph, of an article that appeared in The California Baptist, a magazine circulated throughout the state.

The First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove has entered into a plan of church financing known as the "Broadway Plan."

This plan was first adopted in Houston, Texas, and derived its name from the Broadway Baptist Church of Houston. The plan has been widely used in Texas among churches of the Baptist faith.

The First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove is the first church in California to issue securities under the Broadway plan. The program as applied in California is not identical with the program as used in Texas due to the difference in the California law and the Texas law. The over-all pattern is very similar, however. In accordance with the Broadway

Plan, and in accordance with the laws of the State of California, the First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove is issuing church notes in denominations ranging from $50. to $500.

These notes bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, such interest payments being evidenced by coupons attached to each note. The notes and coupons are paid on presentation by the Security Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego, California, on the dates indicated on the face of the notes and on the various coupons.

There are 196 notes aggregating a total value of $30,000. Interest is payable on the first day of July each year. The notes are issued for the purpose of erecting a house of worship on the church property in Lemon Grove, and the church in regular sessions assembled has covenanted that the property will not be mortgaged or otherwise encumbered while any of the notes are outstanding and unpaid.

The Broadway Plan of church financing as adopted by the First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove, accomplishes three important purposes:

First: The purchaser of a note is making an investment for his own future welfare or the welfare of his children, such as a college education.

Secondly: The investor is aiding in the development of a greater community by financing church facilities that will contribute not only to the benefit of the church membership, but to the general welfare of the entire community where the church is located.

Thirdly: The purchaser is making a spiritual investment in the greatest business of the world, the promoting of God's kingdom here on earth.

LET'S DISCUSS IT

by Mrs. Agnes Whitlock

Introducing: Mrs. William Edward Beistline, from New Mexico, the 'land of enchantment.'

Mrs. Beistline, (Polly to her friends), her husband, and two young sons live at 7507 Central Avenue. Mr. Beistline is one of those very rare 'native sons' of California, so had very little to say about New Mexico. But Mrs. Beistline is very fond of her home state. Here are a few of the things you shouldn't miss, if you happen to be in New Mexico.

New Mexico is full of scenic wonders. Carlsbad Caverns, 8th wonder of the world, in Southern New Mexico. Ice Caves, east of Gallup, Aztec Ruins and Chaco Canyon in the northern part of the state.

There are many other historical Indian ruins, but it would take too long to name them here.

Twenty miles east of Albuquerque, are the San Dia Mountains, over 11,000 feet high, with a beautiful scenic drive, called 'The Rim Drive'. In the winter they are fine for skiing and sled runs.

Albuquerque is full of unique stores featuring Indian jewelry, rugs and objects of the southwest. One of the most unusual of these stores is Maisel's Trading Post. The center part of the floor is cut out and a piece of glass has been set in, so the tourist may view the Indians sitting below at their tables, making turquoise rings, bracelets, conche belts, etc.

Aside from the modern business district you will find a section called 'Old Town', with adobe buildings, some dating back to the 17th and 18th centuries, and a central space known as Old Town Plaza. Some of these buildings have been restored and are being used as shops for the Indian and Mexican wares.

La Placita, one of the oldest and largest buildings, now houses shops that specialize in Mexican food, jewelry and an art exhibit. The Rio Grande River is just a few blocks from Old Town. Like the San Diego River, it is dry most of the year.

Sixty four miles north of Albuquerque, is Sante Fe, the capitol of New Mexico. The city is small, but the hills and mountains surrounding it are full of large and beautiful homes, many with swimming pools. Numerous artists make their homes here.

The grand 'Fiesta' is usually held in August, people from all over the country attend. Dancing and celebrating in the Plaza is in order as well as dressing in colorful Spanish costumes.

The Gallup Indian Ceremonial also held in the summer, is another large celebration. It is here that you will see the famous Navajo Indian Tribal Dances. There is always quite a crowd, so reservations must be made several months in advance.

Other places of interest are, Las Alamos, scene of the Atomic Bomb research, near Sante Fe; and Ala Mogarda, White Sands, in southwest New Mexico. Here are miles of pure white sand. Some rocket tests are made here.

"We moved from Albuquerque to Lemon Grove almost three years ago. The main reason was the climate. My husband, Ed, has sinus trouble, and the cold of winter and dust during the summer months in New Mexico, gradually irritated them more each year.

"A MILD (California) climate was advised. We like Lemon Grove because it is a nice small residential section near a large metropolis, for wider entertainment, etc. In a small town, you get to know all the business people personally. Its nice to be able to say 'Howdy do' and know their first names."

We didn't have space for all the things Mrs. Beistline wanted to talk about, so we'll have her tell us more at a later date.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY BANQUET FOR SPRING VALLEY CHURCH

We in Spring Valley, are proud of the grey block church on the corner of Kenwood and Bancroft streets.

Mr. Glenn Switzer donated the land and also most of the material used. The original plans were enlarged to accommodate the needs of our fast growing community. It was designed by Paul Dege of San Diego and is called a modified English Tudor type of architecture. The dedication service January 18, 1948, was very well attended and Rev. Blaine Bronner the pastor, welcomes everyone at any service. He is very active in community projects, and the church is being used for classes in adult education, Red Cross work, Cub Scouts, and Boy Scout Troop No. 47.

The first Anniversary Banquet will be held at the church Friday night, January 21 at 7:00 P. M.

Everett Cramer and his wife, Charlene, will render vocal numbers; he is pastor at Bell, California. Rev. Lamb, general superintendent of Friends work in California, will give a short address. This is to be a real occasion and reservations may be made by calling H.6-3339. Proceeds will go into the building fund. The public is cordially invited.

Annual Meeting Held By First Congretational

The members and friends of the First Congregational Church held their annual meeting Sunday following a pot luck dinner after the morning services. The tables were full, and all enjoyed an excellent dinner.

The pastor, Rev. Dan Apra, conducted the annual business meeting, hearing reports from the leading organizations of the church.

Detailed financial reports were read and accepted. The budget raised last year was in excess of $8000. Over $18,000. has been paid in toward the new building. The largest contributor among the church organizations has been the Ladies Aid, as they turned over more than $1500. toward the expenses of the church and the building fund last year.

The new tentative budget of more than $10,000. for 1949 was unanimously adopted by the membership.

It was noted that since Rev. Apra's arrival the average attendance at Sunday morning services has increased from 85 to 191 and there has been a substantial increase in membership.

New officers presented by the nominating committee and unanimously elected were: clerk, Mrs. J. W. Lowry; assistant clerk, Mrs. Hannah Abbott; trustees, Stanley Blake, Robert Beers and Gerald Holmes; deacons, Howard La Shell and George Dickinson; deaconesses, Mrs. Pearl Sunbury, Miss Bertha Hoover and Mrs. Dorothy Denlinger.

On the board of religious education, new members will be Arthur Thomas, Mrs. Blanche Pierce, and Mrs. Homer Blalock. On the music committee will be Mr. DeWitt Mytinger, Mr. Spen-

CAMP FIRE GIRL NEWS

A girl joining the Camp Fire Girls chooses a name symbolic of something she likes or wishes to become. After the name, the symbol quite naturally follows, for it is a design to represent the meaning of the name.

Let us use for example the name "Woussicket," which is a word from one of the Indian languages meaning 'running brook' and is just the word that expresses you, for brooks are friendly and chatty; fresh and clean. They have depth and reflect sunlight. They know and can keep secrets. From there we find symbols to represent these ideals and desires.

Let us examine some of the group names.

cer McKern, and Mrs. Martha Thomas. Mrs. Margaret Humphrey was added to the Chancel committee; Don Ellis and Leo Cass were added to the ushers committee.

William Edward Beistline became the new church treasurer, with Ernest Sunbury as assistant.

At the close of the meeting many members enjoyed a tour of the new building, which is plastered now and will soon be ready for use.

The seventh grade group which meets at 9:30 on Monday has the name O-Yo-Kwa, meaning, a group of girls forming a single fellowship.

The 10:30 Camp Fire group is the O-Ki-Hi, meaning 'able to accomplish' and the 12:30 group, O-Kin-Ya-Sen, means 'one root, joined like sisters, working toward one end.

The eighth grade girls have the original name chosen in 1928 by the first Camp Fire group in Lemon Grove, I-Da-Ka, meaning 'to make friends and be one.' The watch word in Camp Fire is Wo-He-Lo which stands for work, health and love.

BROWNIES NEWS

Mrs. Stanley Kessel's Brownies, who meet in the St. John of the Cross School, held an election at their last meeting. They chose Sandra Kessel as scribe and Yoando Reade as treasurer. Three patrols were elected: Carmela Vezza, Martha Valdez and Marian Mongano.

Last week these girls brought their Christmas dolls and gave them a tea party. They also played games and enjoyed refreshments. Next week the girls plan to make valentines.

Several Forward Club members attended the Reciprocity Tea given by the Juniors Saturday at the Women's Club in San Diego. They reported having a lovely time. Ladies attending were Mrs. Willis Richardson, Mrs. A. P. Schnell, Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mrs. Louisa Johnson, Mrs. R. E. Issott and Mrs. Ted Haaf.

Forward Club Hear Address On Literature

In spite of the rainy weather Friday, more than 30 women attended the first meeting of the Forward Club for the new year.

Plans for a luncheon February 16, followed by a card party, were announced by the ways and means chairman, Mrs. I. B. Burkett. Plans were also begun for a bazaar in May.

Mrs. Amy Sonka stated that the Forward Club Juniors had just earned 24 card tables by getting advertisements to be inscribed on the tops. They also earned a substantial amount of cash for their treasury. They offered the senior club the use of the tables for permission to store them in the club storage room.

A moment of silence was observed for Mrs. Thompson, who passed away last week. She had been a hard working club member in past years.

Mrs. Hannah Abbott, president of the Book Review Section, was in charge of the program, and she introduced Mrs. W. C. Whittaker, in charge of the literature department of the county federation.

Mrs. Whittaker gave a very excellent address on California's contributions to literature, beginning with early records of Bret Harte, Mark Twain and Joaquin Miller. She stated that Mrs. Anna Kobert, who came to California with the Mormons, had a colorful career, and as librarian, did much to assist Jack London to become a writer of novels.

Mrs. Whittaker named many books and authors who have become famous for their writings, including Gertrude A. Theron, Franklin Walker, Anne Nichols, Harry Carr, Cary McWilliams, Earle Stanley Gardner, Winifred Davidson, Belle Benchley, Sally Carver and Max Miller.

Desire is prayer; and no loss can occur from trusting God with our desires, that they may be moulded and exalted before they take form in words and in deeds.

A Talk With Parents

by L. E. McGee

There has been considerable said about the danger of building resentment in children. I'm not impressed with the alleged danger along this line. My theory of teaching a child to live in the world as it really exists, prepares him to face things which he will resent. Just as you may resent a traffic ticket, an unfair employer, an interfering neighbor, etc., etc. You must learn to forget your resentment as quickly as possible and to expect a certain amount of incidents which create resentment.

Therefore let a child learn to overcome resentment while he is young. Children learn more easily and more rapidly than adults so it is better for all concerned.

You probably know, among your acquaintances, some person who resents everything which does not agree with his point of view. You can very probably figure that he did not learn this lesson as a child.

However, it isn't wise for anybody to build up resentment in others, including children. No sane person would do so intentionally. You may be interested in hearing how some children resent acts of their parents. I had the opportunity of sitting in on a 'round table' discussion between parents and children recently. I won't quote verbatim, merely the

To keep varnished floors in good condition, use wax or oil, but never both.

Before placing small wash rugs, curtains and slipcovers in water, shake well. This removes loose dust and makes excessive sudsing and rinsing unnecessary.

When not in use, place a bit of borax in glass jars. This will keep them fresh and sweet until they are ready for use.

Rub a cut lemon over cut glasses to restore their natural brilliancy and luster. Wash in warm water, then polish with a lint-free cloth.

A small comb is a good gadget for removing hairs and threads from the brushes of a carpet sweeper or a vacuum cleaner.

- 3 tablespoons water
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3 plain chocolate bars
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped pecans

Cook the first three ingredients in a sauce pan for 10 minutes. Stir all the time to prevent burning. Add vanilla and pour into a buttered pan. Lay chocolate bars on top while the candy is still hot. Sprinkle with the chopped pecans. Cool and break into pieces.

If sediment collects in glasses, pots or containers, place some vinegar in them, enough to cover the sediment, and let stand for at least 10 minutes. Pour out vinegar and wash in soapy water and they will be thoroughly clean.

Rub your faucets and other metal fixtures with polish when cleaning. The oiliness of the polish prevents them from becoming spotted with water and will also tend to prevent rust from forming.

gist of the discussion.

One youngster claimed that if he broke something at home, he was scolded and called clumsy and careless. But if one of his parents broke anything, it was an accident. Does that sound familiar?

Another example was given by a girl. She claims her dad SAID parents should spend time with their children. Then when she wanted her father to take her to a movie, ball game, or a picnic, he was too tired. An hour later when a friend dropped in and suggested golf, he agreed enthusiastically. Does that one fit you?

The one complaint that was most prevalent, was lack of consideration. Parents bring children

PTA EXECUTIVE BOARD IN REGULAR MEET

The P.T.A. executive board met at the home of Mrs. Guy Winton last Thursday for their regular monthly session.

into the world and their homes. The children deserve as much consideration as any other member of the family. Complaints were: parents monopolizing radio programs; children's company forbidden; arbitrary orders with no discussion permitted; sentence of punishment without trial, to quote one youngster; no choice in selection of clothes; etc., etc.

I offer no comment. If any of these complaints take place in your home, think over what you have just read. Every good parent will occasionally face resentment but we should try to control it.

Don't permit an argument to ensue over every decision you make, but if there is a chance of you being in error, listen to Junior and discuss it with him. If you are wrong, admit it. You may be surprised at the new respect in the attitude of your boy or girl. And never punish hastily. Talk it over first. Be sure the child knows exactly why the punishment is forthcoming. Don't try to act like God. The children know you're not. Believe me.

Incidents Bring Accidents

by Dr. Frank Weege, D. C.

Did you ever consider that clean, wholesome fun among children could turn into tragedy? Impossible, you may say. In order to show that fate is always ready and helpful to produce unexpected and dire results, let us listen to a story which has its start at Mildred Gunther's home. Mildred had invited her classmate and cherished friend, Louise, to spend the evening with her and her parents. Mildred's mother was busily engaged in the kitchen, preparing dinner; daddy wasn't home as yet but should arrive momentarily. Passing away the time, the girls enjoyed themselves at the grand piano. Mildred was playing and Louise exercised her vocal chords. After a few runs over the keys, Mildred started the introduction to "Ave Maria".

"Oh, Mildred," interrupted Louise, "not this one; after all, I'm not Deanna Durbin."

"Oh, yes you are, Louise," answered Mildred, "anyhow, to me you can sing it just as beautifully and sentimentally as Deanna can."

There was no further discussion. Mildred struck a chord in G minor and Louise's golden voice sounded through the room: "Ave Maria." Mildred's mother, by this time, engaged in placing her biscuit batter in the molds, could not help stopping to listen to the children's wonderful rendition.

"How happy and glad I am," she mused, "to have such virtuous children about me." Glancing at the electric clock, she snapped out of her temporary meditation and continued her task.

After the girls had finished the recital, Mildred's daddy entered the room. He had been listening outside until the last sound had passed. He placed his arms around both girls and told them how immensely he had enjoyed the duet. Soon after this, the family were grouped around the table and a lively conversation ensued. Compliments went to the mother for the delightful dinner.

Addressing the girls, Mr. Gunther queried, "What is on your program for tonight?"

"Oh, daddy," answered Mildred excitedly, "if you and mother permit, we would like to go roller skating for a few hours."

Attend Council B'kfst In Beverly Hills

In the before-dawn hours of Sunday morning, four Lemon Grove matrons, Mrs. W. E. Beistline, Mrs. Frank Greenlee, Mrs. Roy Butler, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Whitlock, left on their trip to Beverly Hills.

Representing Theta Omicron chapter, they attended the Beta Sigma Phi Southern California Council breakfast held in Sarnes Restaurant.

After the breakfast they enjoyed a drive through the residential district of Beverly Hills, viewing the beautiful homes and parks. They returned home Sunday evening.

"Didn't you tell me a few days ago that Louise is not quite sure of herself on skates?" interrupted Mrs. Gunther.

"Yes, mother," replied Mildred, "but don't you worry, I will be with her every minute and see to it that she is alright; after all, she has to learn some time."

"Very well," said Mildred's mother, "you will have our consent, but what about your parents, Louise?"

"Thank you for your concern, Mrs. Gunther," said Louise politely, "I have permission to be in Mildred's company anytime, as long as I get home by ten o'clock."

And so the youngsters left for the skating rink where they arrived about fifteen minutes later. Soon afterward, Robert Mitchell, a boy friend of Mildred's spotted the girls on the floor and made a dash for them. Not knowing of Louise's inexperience he grabbed Mildred's both hands, pulled her to the right and went into a spin with her.

Louise had been holding on to Mildred, but lost her grip and skated right into the pathway of an oncoming rusher. The impact threw Louise off her balance and down she went. Her head struck the floor quite heavily and her right leg was twisted beneath her body. She was carried away and a few minutes later an ambulance took her to a nearby hospital.

Sad words had to be spoken to Louise's parents by the doctors. "Concussion of the brain and fracture of the right femur bone." For a few days it looked very bad for Louise, but gradually she made a little headway. However it took many weeks before she could attend class again and be in company with her school mates. Carelessness must be blamed on Louise, Mildred, Robert and the rusher, but Louise carries the biggest part thereof.

And now, as to the moral of the story:

A child has ev'ry righ to play, And to be happy, free and gay; But reason must dictate the glee No matter what the fun may be. If skating gave Louise such thrill She should have tried her skating skill

Had dear Louise observed this rule She would, with Mildred be in school; Enjoying school mates' mirth and glee Instead of suffering agony.
